What does CoreIntegrator do for them?

CoreIntegrator is a key part of this company's financial system. In addition to CoreIntegrator, we have done a number of integrations in other areas of their business to streamline processes. CoreIntegrator was implemented in the Accounts Payable department to handle invoices, purchase orders, and many other processes.

How do we make their life easier?

Due to the distributed nature of their organization, This company has encountered many issues managing the information, supplies, and personnel at the various locations. CoreIntegrator has helped solve this issue through technology. One specific integration that helped was to create automated EDI transactions to order supplies for the training schools. Prior to implementing the solution, they had to manually order training supplies for all of their stores from their vendor partner. Through an automated EDI solution, we were able to reduce the number of errors and ensure that the schools always had the supplies they needed to train their students. The CoreIntegrator suite of products has assisted in Accounts Payable approval of invoices and removing the need to physically store paper documents.
